

MD998801

A technical line drawing of a mechanical assembly. A central shaft with a splined top section passes through a bearing. The bearing is mounted on a rectangular block. This block is supported by a larger rectangular base. Two threaded rods with hexagonal nuts are used to clamp the assembly together. A leader line points from the text 'MD998801' to the bearing.

AKB00683AB