

A technical line drawing of a vehicle's front wheel and suspension. The wheel has a multi-spoke alloy rim. A small rectangular component, the TPMS transmitter, is mounted on the inner side of the wheel hub. A dashed circle highlights this component, and an arrow points from the text label to it. The suspension components, including the lower control arm and steering knuckle, are shown to the right of the wheel.

TPMS
transmitter

ACC02921 AB