

Connector lock

The diagram illustrates the front end assembly of a vehicle. A large, curved metal component, the front end upper bar, is shown. A connector lock is attached to this bar. A front impact sensor is also shown, connected to the assembly. A black arrow points to the connector lock. The diagram is a line drawing with some shading to indicate depth.

Front end
upper bar

Front impact sensor

ACB04294 AC