

A technical line drawing of an engine's timing belt assembly. The diagram shows a large timing belt gear at the top with a small notch on its upper edge. Two arrows point from the text 'Timing mark' to this notch. Below the gear are two pistons, each with a vertical ribbed skirt. The entire assembly is housed within a block with various ports and components.

Timing mark

AK300148AE