Headlining

A technical line drawing showing a car's headlining being attached to a metal clip. A vinyl cord is shown running through the clip and along the headlining. The drawing includes labels for 'Clip', 'Vinyl cord', and 'Headlining'. The clip is a circular component with a central hole. The vinyl cord is a thick, flexible-looking material. The headlining is a thin, curved material. The drawing is a black and white line drawing with no shading.
