

Equipment side
connector

A line drawing showing a hand installing an air flow sensor into a vehicle's engine compartment. The sensor is a rectangular component with a cylindrical top and a mounting bracket. A line points from the text label to the sensor. The background shows various engine components like hoses and the air filter housing.

Air flow sensor (incorporating intake air temperature sensor)

AKC00114 AB