

A technical line drawing showing a person's hands installing a timing belt rear cover. The cover is being pushed onto a timing belt that is already in place. The drawing shows the internal components of the engine, including the timing belt, camshaft, and various pulleys. The person is using their fingers to guide the cover into place. Two lines point from the text labels to the specific parts being discussed.

MD998738

Timing belt rear cover

AC507900 AB